

Using Your Real Estate to Fund Charity

Helping real estate owners multiply charitable impact by giving non-cash assets

Many real estate investors have a heart to give charitably but feel hindered by their limited cash flow, non-cash assets, and growing taxation of their investments. Our team at the National Christian Foundation (NCF) has a solution which allows you to give interests in appreciated real estate (raw land, residential, and/or commercial real estate) to us prior to any potential future sale. This strategy may avoid capital gains taxes on the gifted portion, and you will likely receive an income tax deduction for the fair market value of the gift, freeing up additional cash flow for more giving.

THE BENEFITS OF GIVING REAL ESTATE

- Preserve the full fair market value of the gifted asset for charitable impact.
- Avoid or reduce capital gains taxes, moving more dollars to charity.
- Maximize your giving by leveraging the deductions reserved for non-cash assets (up to 30% of AGI).
- Reduce current-year income taxes providing increased cash flow.
- Work with one organization (NCF) but recommend grants to multiple charities now or over time.

THE RESULTS OF GIVING BEFORE THE SALE

This table shows the impact of giving a $1,000,000 piece of land with a $100,000 cost basis and no debt.

	Family	Taxes	Charity
Sell now, give cash later	$311,136	($51,936)	$740,800
Give property before a future sale	$420,000	($420,000)	$1,000,000
Difference	$108,864	$368,064	$259,200

As a result of giving assets vs giving cash, $259,200 MORE would go to your favorite charities and $368,064 less in taxes!

QUESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION AND CUSTOM ILLUSTRATION

How long have you owned the real estate?

Do you receive any income from the property?

What would you estimate to be your adjusted cost basis?

Has an environmental report been completed in the past (if non-residential property)?

What would you estimate to be the fair market value?

Is there a binding contract of sale on the property?

What has been the historical use of the property?

Do you pay Net Investment Income Tax (NIIT), also known as the Medicare surcharge?

Is there any debt associated with the property? If so, how old?

The table below shares more details of the example from the previous page, providing assumptions and context of the real estate gift.

Sell Now, give cash later

Family $311,136	Taxes ($51,936)	Charity $740,800
Your family would receive a charitable deduction for the cash gift of only $740,800. The income taxes saved from this deduction are $311,136. $42\% (37\% \text{ federal} + 5\% \text{ state}) \times $740,800 \text{ deduction} = $311,136$.	You sell the property first, triggering a long-term capital gains tax and NIIT of $259,200. $28.8\% (20\% \text{ federal} + 5\% \text{ state} + 3.8\% \text{ NIIT}) \times $900k ($1M \text{ sale price} - $100k \text{ cost basis}) = $259,200$. This is offset by $311,136 in tax savings from the deduction of the post sale gift, which leaves $51,936 less in taxes.	Only $740,800 goes to giving since you're giving from the after-tax proceeds ($$1M - $225k \text{ in capital gains} - $34,200 \text{ NIIT}$).

Give property before the sale

Family $420,000	Taxes ($420,000)	Charity $1,000,000
Your family benefits from the savings of taxes on the larger charitable deduction of $1M, which could be carried forward up to 5 years. At a rate of 42% (37% federal + 5% state) $\times $1M \text{ deduction}$, your family would receive $420,000 in tax savings.	Since NCF (a public charity) owns the asset at the time of sale, no capital gains or NIIT tax is owed. Your family receives the full value of the charitable deduction, leaving you with $420,000 less in taxes.	The full $1M goes to giving since NCF pays no capital gains tax or NIIT on the gifted portion as a public charity.

As a result of giving assets vs giving cash, $259,200 MORE would go to your favorite charities.
